Water System Installations Started; May Be Completed By October

LAC LA BICHE—About two years ago while the town was still only a village, the plan was made to some day have an efficient water system in Lac la Biche. The idea was proposed by the former council, with Dr. Cadzow as a main promoter.

It was pointed out that better bathing facilities would lead to improved health, especially among the children. Also from the beautification point of view, lawns and park projects could be developed, and the home owner could cool the air with a sprinkler and hose, at the same time as he watered his gardens and flowers.

When the water system is supplemented by proper fire fighting equipment, with the approval of the underwriters, fire insurance could be greatly reduced.

In January, 1950, the village became a town and the plan gained momentum, after much investigation, and many discussions, a vote was taken last November and the go ahead given. This voting must have hit an all-time high in representation, since only three eligible voters failed to turn out.

The project was estimated to take $142,000. Ordinarily 20-year debentures would call for 4% or 5% rate of interest. A special liquidating debenture was arranged for through the government and no outside debentures were sold. Under this type of "Help the Consumer" plan, only 2% interest is collected. Initial surveys were made by Mr. J. A. Rowand, who was killed last fall in a plane accident off Vancouver Island. Mr. H. A. Ripley is now in charge. Last March, McLeod & Co., from Edmonton, were engaged, and in May the work actually began.

Huge diggers are used to excavate the ten-foot trenches. For the water main the dirt is carried to the surface by scoops on a conveyor belt, and neatly piled to one side. Men wearing "steel hats" work in the trench, laying the long line of pipe. The water pipe is iron and comes in 20-foot lengths. The main line is 8" in diameter. All joints are sealed with oakum then babbitted together. A portable forge moves along the side of the trench as the line progresses. Copper surface connections will be used, but the main lines of both water and sewer are to be completed before any connections at all are made. An application should be made by each householder before the mains go past his property, so that the proper joint may be installed. This applies especially to sewer. Costs of service lines to customers are divided between the town and the consumer. There is a choice of options which will be explained at the town office.

At the last town meeting a plumbing inspector was appointed. He is local constable, Charles Calvert. Councillor Michael Perron was appointed a committee of one to work with Mr. Calvert on plumbing inspections. Regulations require that each householder obtain a plumbing permit approved by the inspector. An application for this permit must be made at the town office prior to commencing installation.

About twelve fire hydrants, each fed by 6-inch pipe, are to be installed at strategic points. The water mains leading into houses are of four-inch pipe. The water will be drawn from the lake by a powerful pump driven by electricity and put through a filter system to remove suspended matter, then chlorinated to purify it and kill harmful bacteria. The water tower, which will be just south of the station, will hold 40,000 gallons.

Unlike the water mains, which are of iron, and follow the contour of the surface, the sewer mains are of tile, two and one-half feet long, and with mains 10 inches in diameter. All joints are cemented and since sewage will not rise to its level as water does, the pipe must always have a downward slope. As a result some of it is seventeen feet deep. A different kind of digger is used for these varied depths, a dragline type, and since it must always move backwards it is sometimes called a "back-hoe." After the main is in place, soil is shovelled in and carefully tamped under the pipe by man power to maintain support and keep pipe level under the weight of dirt on top.

This is most important for the sewage mains, as a variation in levels might cause a section to slant uphill and cause trouble. Manholes are installed at intervals probably about thirty-five in all. The sewage will enter a large disposal plant where it will be chemically purified before being discharged. The recent rain made conditions very unpleasant for men working "down below," as the mud does not dry up as on the surface.

Final filling is done by power, and the big 'dozer levels it off fairly well. Workmen in the two crews are mostly local.

It is hoped that the project will be complete by October.

Insufficient Time For Language, Religion

QUEBEC — The third French Language Congress was told Thursday how the 622,000 French-speaking Canadians west of Quebec are making out and the general opinion was that they suffered more from lack of French-language education than their cousins in New England.

The reason appeared to be that

Lac la Biche Visited By Photographer, Writer From France

LAC LA BICHE—The R. C. M. P. are known the world over, and recently two gentlemen from France, a writer, M. George Rotvan, and a photographer, M. J. R. Charbonneau, visited Lac la Biche as a part of their tour across Canada, reporting for a magazine published in Paris.

Most of their visits were to the larger centres, but they chose to visit Lac la Biche for its color and environment. They have made over 600 pictures of various facets of R. C. M. P. work, and while here took photos of the coffee shop, the people, with the R. C. M. P. attending, as they filed out of the beer parlor at closing time, pictures of the lake, and one of the forestry office. They are having some copies of their publication printed in English, and have promised to send some complimentary copies to Lac la Biche. They were amazed at the convenience, cleanliness, and quality of food served in a smaller town like Lac la Biche, as compared to a similar size place in Europe. Amounts and variety of goods for sale was also a surprise to them, as well as the cleanliness and comfort of hotel rooms.

They are travelling across Canada by train, but came here from Edmonton by plane. They left by plane for Calgary and Vancouver on Sunday, June 8.

Zawalski-Trela Vows Pledged

PROSPERITY — On Saturday, June 21, the Roman Catholic Church of Prosperity was the scene of a lovely wedding when Miss Johpine Trela, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trela, was united in marriage with Mr. Toni Zawalski from Edmonton.

The bride wore a floor length dress of lace and net, with a beautiful beaded headpiece and three-quarter length veil. The bride was attended by five bridesmaids and a maid of honor.

A reception was held at the bride's home where about 200 guests were received. The guests were received by Mrs. Trela wearing a gray suit, and John Trela.

The young couple received many lovely gifts. A wedding dance was held in the evening at Willow Flat Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Toni Zawalski will live in Edmonton.

The Western Canadian "Habitant" was widely dispersed.

The French population in the prairie provinces was estimated at: Manitoba, 52,000; Saskatchewan 52,000, and Alberta, 48,000.

In Alberta, the first two years of elementary education may be entirely in French, said Dr. L. P. Mousseau of Edmonton. From the third grade to the fifth, 30 minutes of French was allowed. There was one hour of religious teaching.

This is insufficient to give youth a training in language and religion, Dr. Mousseau said.

Mr. Mousseau said Alberta's 1941 population of 726,169 included 191,343 Catholics and 42,979 French-speaking residents. There probably were 48,000 French-speaking persons now in Alberta.

"Anglicizing" had developed particularly in the southern sections of the province and in isolated areas.

PROF. FRED L. PRECHT, director of the Concordia Seminary Lutheran Hour Chorus of Springfield, Ill., has studied with many of America's musical masters in the nation's most famous universities. He will direct the chorus in a concert in Bethlehem Lutheran Church on Saturday, June 14 at 8 p.m. The program will include many of the world's most famous sacred works.

Farmers Pay Up

The federal government has loaned farmers $225 million under the Farm Improvement Act 1945. D. M. McRae, administrator of the act, reported to parliament last week that at the end of 1951 the loss incurred was $26,229 or 1/100 of 1 per cent.

Under the act farmers could borrow money from the banks for the purchase of land, farm machinery, livestock, erection and repair of farm buildings, etc. The government gave a guarantee to the banks against loss to the extent of 10 per cent.

Claims on the government by the banks because of non-payment of loans declined to $6,499 in 1951, down from $9,466 in 1950 and $10,264 in 1949.

Loans in 1951 by provinces were:

B.C.	$ 2,007,000	Quebec	$ 6,125,000
Alberta	23,240,000	N. Bruns.	696,000
Sask.	27,876,000	Nova Scotia	619,000
Manitoba	11,370,000	P. E. I.	1,144,000
Ontario	12,178,000	Nfld.	2,412

A substantial proportion of the loans are made to farmers to buy farm implements, the total in 1951 being $78 million to finance the purchase of $137 million worth of machinery and trucks. Farm implement manufacturers and distributors are thus relieved of the cost of credit sales and any losses entailed thereby. In this way the cost of manufacturing and distributing farm machinery is considerably reduced.

Lucky Smoky Lake

(From the Edmonton Journal)

Glancing through the new Oxford Canadian Atlas, we notice that the town of Smoky Lake, fifty-five miles northeast of Edmonton, receives special mention in the gazetteer. It is intriguing to wonder whether this "honor" will make it better known and thus affect its future.

The special mention is purely an accident of the geographer's art. The main gazetteer has ninety-six pages and must list some 60,000 names, but by chance Smoky Lake happens to be the first name listed on page eighty; so for convenience of users it is shown in large type at the top, along with the last name listed on the page, as is customary in an atlas, dictionary or encyclopedia. It is interesting to note that only one other Canadian name—Rice Lake, Ontario—is equally favored by chance.

Of course, this is all quite accidental. It is probable that Smoky Lake will be favored in the future by the labors of its inhabitants and by its geographical location in this booming oil province, not by its position in the gazetteer.

Why Advertise?

When Mark Twain was editor of a Western newspaper, a superstitious subscriber found a spider in his paper and wrote the editor to ask if that was a sign of good or bad luck.

With his usual needle-witted appreciation of the situation, the humorist answered in the following vein:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and live a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

Baby Mix-Ups Prevented

To prevent giving a mother the wrong baby at a maternity hospital, a new device, invented by Jewett E. Popma, of Portland, Oregon, is now available which will photograph the palm print of a new born baby and the finger prints of the mother.

One of the special features of this invention is a mechanism which will prevent the photo from being taken except when both the mother and child are pressing exactly right on the glass plate. Too much or too little pressure can make the finger-prints worthless.

If this invention will record only perfect prints, it will thereby make hospital slip-ups virtually impossible. Of course, the old-time system of having babies in the home was almost foolproof, too!

Provincial Election Issues

Premier Manning has named the day. August 5th those Albertans who aren't on their annual vacations will be trooping to the polls to elect another government.

We don't think the issues of this election should revolve around whether or not gas export should have been permitted. That question is largely a technical matter and not one of political policy. If the gas is available for export it should be exported. If not, it should be kept right here.

The voters will be conscious of the need for natural gas service in the towns and villages of Alberta. Any Government that will use gas and oil royalties to subsidize the building of gas lines to Alberta rural points should find favour with the townspeople.

Farmers of Alberta want rural electrification. This can be done if the Government will subsidize the building of rural lines. The power itself can still be sold through private companies.

Motorists and truckers (and that includes just about all of us) would like to see a definite program of good roads. They don't have to be paved or hard topped. Most Albertans would like to see a graveling program put into effect that would save them the heavy upkeep costs of running vehicles on such poor roads as are our main highways.

The next government should announce a definite program to extend telephone service throughout the province. Service given by the Alberta Government Telephones is as much in need of extension and improvement as any government service we can think of.

These, we believe, to be the issues that should be decided at the Aug. 5 election. These are the points of most vital interest to every Alberta voter. We wonder if any political party will take the opportunity of espousing these issues.

Price Support

The federal government pays about $18 million a year to assist in maintaining the operation of Canadian gold mines, but the basic industry of agriculture has received only $10 million dollars of federal funds to support the price of farm products over a period of five years, or $2 million a year.

This fact was pointed out to the federal standing committee on finances by Dr. E. C. Hope, economist for the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Dr. Hope said that the gold mining industry probably employs not more than 23,000 workers. On the other hand, there are one million workers in the agricultural industry.

Repentance — And Its Possibilities

DOES A MAN EVER GET TO THE PLACE where he cannot repent of his sins?

Yes, he does. The most dangerous liar in the world is the man who lies to himself. His fate is that he believes his own lies at last. There are people who cannot repent of their sins for the simple reason that they do not believe they are sinners. They cannot repent of sins which they do not believe they have committed. There are still others who cannot repent of their sins because they have so allowed their sins to overwhelm them, that their will power is destroyed.

REPENTANCE IS A GIFT OF GOD just as salvation is a gift of God. Anybody can have repentance who wants to have it, but there actually are many people who do not want to repent. Accordingly, they cannot receive the spiritual gift of repentance. They will not forgive somebody they hate, or they will not restore something they have wickedly appropriated. There are others who are willing to do anything save give up some vice. To live without this indulgence would be unthinkable.

* * *

THESE CANNOT RECEIVE THE GIFT of salvation because they cannot receive from God the prerequisite, namely, the power to repent. But they can have this power if they want it. To say that they cannot repent means that they do not want to repent.

TV FAR BEYOND HORIZON FOR CALGARY, EDMONTON

From the Calgary Albertan

OTTAWA—Calgary isn't going to get its own television for many years to come.

And the same applies to Edmonton.

The reason? Alberta is not included in the "next stage" of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's television development program. In fact there have been no plans made yet for Alberta.

Chances of any plans being made for TV in Alberta are dim, because the "next stage" includes seven major Canadian cities outside Alberta and it will take some years before they are serviced.

CBC chairman A. D. Dunton told The Albertan this while commenting on his recent statement that Ottawa and Quebec City would be the next two Canadian cities to get TV. He said he was misquoted.

"Recent newspaper reports suggested that Ottawa and Quebec City only would be in the next stage of our TV development. This is not true as there will be seven cities in all in the next stage."

"The CBC hopes to start on the 'next stage' of its TV program after the Montreal and Toronto TV stations are in operation. This should be sometime this Summer."

"Quebec City and Ottawa are only two of the seven cities to get TV next," he said. "The others will be Vancouver, Winnipeg, London, Hamilton and Windsor."

"And when we do start on them, they will all be built at the same time," he said.

"These are only our plans, which I might say were made public some time ago, but which have seemingly been misunderstood," Mr. Dunton added.

"But we can do nothing about these plans as yet since we have had neither authorization nor financial aid from Parliament for them which is necessary," he said.

As for Edmonton and Calgary, these two Alberta cities are not included in the seven-city "next stage" CBC television development program.

Mr. Dunton could not say when they would get TV but said it was a safe bet they would not get TV until after the other seven cities had it. That should not be for two or three years.

Regina, Saskatoon and Victoria will also have to do without TV for some time, as well as the whole of the Maritimes.

One TV station costs anywhere from one million dollars to three and a quarter millions. The cost varies with the locality.

GLAD YOU LIKE US

I have read only a few issues of your paper but want to say that it is by far the most interesting newspaper I have ever seen. It is precise, concise and convincing.

SECOND DAILY—COMICAL

I know of nothing more comical than your report that a Toronto paper might be starting a second one in Edmonton. There is no faster way to lose money than trying to operate newspapers far distant from home. Anyway, the Journal has got the wire services and features such as comic strips all tied up. Yours is not the only city where the monopoly paper has features and news barred from allowing an opposition to develop. Free Press? Free Enterprise? Pooh; Pfoof!

DOWN ON HOLLYWOOD

We like your paper and editorials but why do you print those pictures of scantily clad Hollywood actresses?

In Leviticus God says seventeen times not to uncover nakedness. Here is one of those seventeen statements: "Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter" (v 17). None but those who despise the Scripture would dare violate those clear commands. God gave the provision of clothing to protect the human race from excessive sin and immorality. All normal people know that an uncovered woman, or a partially uncovered woman, excites the male passion. All nudists and all immodestly dressed women contribute to the sin of men and help foster that state of society where man's eyes "are full of adultery" and they "cannot cease from sin" (II Peter 2:14). Under present conditions, it is difficult indeed for normal men to keep their minds pure and refrain from the lust-filled look that our Saviour said is "committing adultery in the heart" (Matt. 5:28).

HOW TO SLEEP

A recent Voicer who signed himself Sleepless Guy said doctor's pills hadn't done him any good and wondered how he could get a night's rest. Here's the answer: The reason you can't sleep is that your mind is full of thoughts and your muscles are full of tension. The cure is relaxation. When you lie down in bed just let the muscles all over your body loosen up, for about 15 minutes. Don't think of anything else. With practice, it always works.

I.M.
Every night, before you go to bed, drink a glass of warm milk, with flavoring if desired. Keep doing this — it probably won't work the first night.

SWISS.
Go to your corner tavern, get yourself a quart of beer, and go home and pour yourself a glass — never more than two. If you don't fall asleep I'll pay for the suds.

ANGELO RIVERA.
Read the 23rd Psalm in the Bible before going to bed.

MRS. P. C.

I used to have the same trouble. Now I fall asleep within 15 minutes, merely by reading factual detective stories, the kind based on actual police records. By the time I read one story through, concentrating on all the names, dates and places, I'm almost too drowsy to turn off the light.

Take two large slices of onion, make a sandwich, chew it well and slowly, and afterward drink some water, tea or milk. Go to bed, say a prayer to get your mind off yourself and your worries, and you're asleep.

PREMIUM CASH

For years Americans have been proud of their money being worth more than ours. Now, why don't they realize the situation is reversed and the Canadian dollar is worth more than the U.S.? When I went to the States recently I carried mostly American money, but had one $2.00 Canadian bill. Nobody would accept it! Why don't the Americans admit it when they're licked?

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Poor Judge

A stern hatchet-faced woman entered the office and demanded to see the chief. "Is she good-looking?" the boss asked the office boy. "Yes, sir—beautiful."

"Then show her up."

After the woman's departure the boss sent for the office boy. "You're a nice judge of beauty," he said, irritably.

"Well, sir," apologized the boy. "I thought she might be your wife."

"She is!" snapped the boss.

No Parade

A film star, who began her film career in 1914 and had won fame on the stage before that, was inviting some friends to her birthday party recently.

"Will there be a birthday cake?" asked one friend.

"Certainly," replied the actress.

"And will there be candles on it?" asked the friend.

She looked at the woman coldly.

"This is to be a birthday party," she announced, "not a torchlight procession."

Making Sure

Quizzing a bunch of rookies, the sergeant asked, "Johnson, when you clean a rifle, what's the first thing you do?"

"Look at the number," the private answered promptly.

"Now what on earth has that got to do with anything?" demanded the sergeant.

"Just want to make sure," explained Johnson, "that I'm cleaning my own gun."

Don't Spoil 'Em

Joe, thirteen years old, was puzzled over the girl problem, and talked it over with his pal, Willie. "I've walked to school with her three times," he told Willie "and carried her books. I bought her ice cream soda twice. Now do you think I ought to kiss her?"

"Naw, you don't need to," Willie decided after thinking a moment. "You've done enough for that gal already."

Reminder

"What's that piece of string tied around your finger for, Bill?"

"That's a knot. Forget-me-not is a flower. With flour you make bread, and with bread you have cheese. This is to remind me to buy some pickled onions."

Take Your Time

At last he had screwed up his courage to kiss her, and they both liked it. So he did it again — and again.

After about an hour of it he whispered fondly:

"Every time I kiss you I feel a better man, darling."

"Oh, well," she said coyly. "you don't have to reach perfection in one night."

Watch Your Timing

A judge in remanding a criminal called him a scoundrel. The prisoner replied:

"Sir, I am not as big a scoundrel as your honor—" here the culprit stopped but finally added — "takes me to be."

Red Cross Camp Again At Jasper

Red Cross officials have announced that for the third year the Junior Red Cross Leadership Training Centre will be held at Lake Edith, Jasper, from Aug. 21 to 30.

The camp provides an opportunity for specially chosen students from the western provinces and the U.S. to attend and study history and philosophy of the Red Cross; senior Red Cross peace-time services; local, provincial and international projects; swimming and water safety instruction; and hear guest speakers as well as take part in many activities.

In addition the camp develops a group of student-leaders with a knowledge and understanding of the Junior Red Cross.

Those wishing information on the Centre may contact the Junior Red Cross Director, 1504 1st St. E., Calgary.

Farm Women's Week

If you plan to attend Farm Women's Week at one of the Schools of Agriculture this year, now is the time to make application. Farm Women's Week will be held at all three schools—Fairview, July 7 to 10; Vermilion, July 14 to 17; Olds, July 21 to 24.

Some of your neighbors might also be interested in this event, and by early application you might arrange accommodation together. In any case there will be no shortage of good company. There's nothing like the broadening effect of meeting people from other places and learning about the things in which they are interested. There are many things of value to be obtained by attending Farm Women's Week—relaxation and recreation, increased knowledge as a result of the lectures and demonstrations provided, enjoyable social gatherings, and an opportunity to meet old friends and make new ones.

Full particulars of Farm Women's Week can be obtained from your District Home Economist or from the Principal of the nearest School of Agriculture at Fairview, Olds, or Vermilion.

Mr., Mrs. Gauthier Celebrate Golden Wedding

PLAMONDON — Under clear skies and bright sunshine, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Gauthier celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary here in a very impressive manner.

The couple were married in Lake Leelanau, Mich., fifty years ago, came to Plamondon district in 1911, and have resided here since that time.

The golden wedding celebration began here with High Mass, officiated by Rev. Fr. Ricard, which at least 150 people attended. Their nine daughters and sons, with their husbands and wives, attended the happy couple.

Mrs. Gauthier was very becomingly dressed in a pale gray floor length gown trimmed with lace bodice, and wearing a golden headdress and a corsage of roses.

Mr. Gauthier also wore a grey suit and a white rose. All their sons and daughters, sons-in-law, and daughters-in-law wore corsages and buttoniers.

After High Mass about one hundred close relatives proceeded to the Plamondon community hall, where a reception was given in honor of the happy couple. A five-tiered wedding cake centred the table, flanked by large bouquets of spring flowers. Rev. Fr. Ricard and Fr. Knebel were special guests. Dinner and supper was served at the hall.

In the evening a dance was held and the hall was packed to capacity.

The wedding march was led by the happy couple, followed by their sons and daughters with their husbands and wives and grandchildren and great-grandchildren and sisters and brothers with their families.

Just previous to the supper waltz the happy couple were seated on the stage and two of their grandchildren, Reta and Lucille Gauthier, read the most touching and inspiring dedication to their grandparents, one in French and one in English, and they sang two very heartwarming songs dedicated to their grandparents. Mrs. Ovide Chevalier composed same and played the accompaniment at the piano.

A purse of sixty dollars was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Alec Gauthier.

The happy couple danced throughout the evening, and the radiance on their faces showed their sincere appreciation of what their sons and daughters had done for them on this their golden anniversary.

Those in charge of the arrangements were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gagnon, Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Gauthier, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gauthier, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Plamondon, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Plamondon, Mr. and Mrs. Donald

Lucille Lamay Honored At Shower

PLAMONDON — Mrs. Leo Bourassa and Mrs. Claude Gauthier were joint hostesses at a surprise shower in honor of Lucille Lemay whose marriage took place in Plamondon on June 27. Mr. Leo Bourassa was host to the men. The bride-to-be was very surprised when she arrived to find all her friends awaiting her.

Lucille was presented with a bride, very attractively dressed and made up of kitchen utensils, and she received many other lovely and useful gifts.

A song composed and sung for Bosse, Mr. and Mrs. Ovilla Gauthier, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Gauthier, Mr. and Mrs. Valmore Plamondon, all of Plamondon, and Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Gauthier of Mercoal, assisted by others.

her by her friends was the highlight of the evening.

A delicious lunch was served, and a very enjoyable evening was had.

Mrs. C. J. Somerville was a recent visitor to Edmonton.

Out-of-town visitors for the Gauthier golden wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Gauthier of Mercoal, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gauthier, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gauthier of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Prosper Lemoge are spending their holidays here with their daughters and relatives.

Mrs. Dewey Plamondon had the misfortune to sprain her ankle and is confined to bed for a few days.

Attention Passenger Car Operators

Section 41a—(1) of The Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act reads as follows:

- "No person shall drive any motor vehicle registered pursuant to this Act unless,—
- (a) the motor vehicle has been inspected within twelve months; and
 - (b) a certificate of approval has been issued pursuant to this section."

All Authorized Testing Stations have now been provided with certificates and windshield transfers to cover the ensuing twelve month period commencing July 1st, 1952. The attention of motorists is particularly called to the fact that certificates of approval which they previously obtained are only valid for a period of twelve months from the date of issue.

Briereville News Briefs

There's a smile on everyone's face around the district, as the gravelling is being done on the highway.

Sigm. Whitford, RA, is home on leave at present. He got five weeks' leave from Kingston. Russell came by bus through the States to Edmonton.

Bud Whitford was also home for a few days recently; also his chum, Jim Ross, of Rich Lake. They returned to Wainwright by a truck driven by N. W. Whitford.

The Briereville Ball Club motored to Therein last Sunday to play a game of ball—and they were rained out.

A community meeting was held last Monday evening, when they had a discussion on getting the hall finished, and also arrangements for a community picnic to be held on July 20. Its hoped for better luck this year as last year the day of the picnic quite a few farmers were hailed out.

Most of the crops are looking fairly good now, from the rains we've been having.

Our supervisor, Miss E. Shwedo, is leaving today as school is now over till next fall.

There was a dance held in the Briereville school house last Friday, where everybody enjoyed themselves. There were quite a few people who got quite wet, inside and outside, as there was a heavy rain that night.

Meyer-Chettleborough

EDMONTON — A wedding of interest to Caslan and district took place in Edmonton on June 21 at the First Church of the Nazarene when Miss Winnifred Chettleborough, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Chettleborough of Edmonton, became the bride of Mr. Albert Meyer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Meyer of Caslan. Rev. R. J. Kisse officiated.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white satin. Her veil fell softly from a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were four attendants, little Wyonia Link, niece of the bride, as flower girl, Mrs. J. Little, sister of the bride as matron of honor, Miss Shirley Chettleborough, a cousin, and Miss Norma Suder of Winterburn, as bridesmaids.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Glen Meyer of Caslan. Ushering the guests were Mr. J. Kay and Mr. James Little.

Following the ceremony the guests gathered for a reception at the Masonic Temple. They were received by the bride's mother, who wore a mauve dress and navy accessories with yellow roses, and by the groom's mother, who wore a black dress with grey accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. G. Chettleborough, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast.

Leaving for a honeymoon to points west, the bride changed to a grey suit with pink accessories.

On their return the newlyweds will make their home in Edmonton.

Lake Superior is the deepest of Great Lakes.

Wandering River News Briefs

Miss Jean and Peggy Sundlie and Miss Alva Franchuk were confirmed in the Wandering River Anglican Church on June 18.

George and Metro Wotamaniuk, Mike Mosich, Nick Oshanyk, Johnny Meyer, and Mike Franchuk, all journeyed down to see the big Lloydminster ball tournament. They certainly saw some good ball games and got a few good pointers.

The Wandering River baseball team won first prize at Plamondon and Venice picnics. They lost by a score of 9-2 at Lac la Biche in an exhibition game. The boys are doing very well.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:

I hear so many women complaining about their husbands wanting to stay home all of the time. Because a man wants to come home at night and rest after a hard day's work, they seem to think it is awful.

Well, I just want to say that a husband like that would suit me fine and that if some of these complaining women had a husband like mine who wants to be going somewhere all the time, they would get mighty tired of it.

No matter how strenuous the day has been, or if we are half-sick, Dick has his bright idea every night of stepping out somewhere or running over to see somebody.

If I finally persuade him to stay home, he looks so restless and jittery that it gets me all upset.

Oh, for a husband who would be satisfied to stay home and read the paper or listen to the radio every night!

E. L. B.

Answer:

Isn't it funny how hard it is to please people? Some women weep because their husbands never take them anywhere and here is one who is bemoaning the fact that her husband wants to be going somewhere all the time.

I wonder why these women didn't find out something about their husband's tastes before they were married. Because, if the women who like to run around had married the men who like the same thing, and vice versa, everything would have been just lovely.

Congeniality is one of the greatest factors towards making a success of married life. It is so much easier to get on with someone who likes the same things that we like.
For we all desire companionship and if we dance, play golf, play bridge, or swim, it is much nicer to do so with our own husband or wife than with someone else.

However, if we have married a person whose likes and desires are not ours, it would be a good idea for us to compromise. The husband who wants to be a playboy will perhaps agree to stay home half the time if his stay-at-home wife will go with him the other half and be agreeable and enthusiastic about it when she does go.

The stay-at-home husband can be persuaded, no doubt, to go somewhere one or two nights of the week if his wife will let him rest in peace by his beloved radio the rest of the time.

Yours,

LOUISA.

Farmers Told Not To Grow "Fort" Barley

The Barley Improvement Institute has issued a warning to western farmers not to grow the new variety "Fort" barley recently licensed by the federal department of agriculture. The Institute supervises the National Barley Contest sponsored by the brewing and malting industries.

The Institute says "Fort" is not a malting barley. Fears are expressed its production even on a limited scale may jeopardize the high standard of premium malting grades which with co-operation of producers it has done so much in recent years to build up.

The new variety "Fort" was originated by the Cereal Division of the federal department of agriculture. Barley experts admit it has the merit of being strong-strawed and yields well above average in the Maritimes. But it is not suited, the Institute stresses, to the drier areas and should not be grown in western Ontario or in western Canada.

The Manitoba department of agriculture, Manitoba Pool Elevators, two malting companies, two Winnipeg grain exporting firms, and the Line Elevators Farm Service have joined with the Institute in asking Hon. James Gardiner to exercise his authority and cancel the license. As a result the Institute has listed seven reasons why western farmers should not grow it. They are:-

1. "Fort" is of much lower malting quality than the present present standard varieties O.A.C. 21 and Montcalm.
2. When threshed it can't be distinguished from Montcalm.
3. If grown in Canada it will get mixed with the good malting varieties and thus reduce the quality.
4. The American market, just beginning to recognize high quality of Canadian blue barley, may be lost.
5. If licensed, it can't be segregated to any area in Canada, and being a new variety it may be exploited in the good barley areas.
6. In Ontario and Quebec where it is said to be well adapted agronomicallly, it would destroy the 2,000,000 bushel malting market.
7. Admitting it would be better agronomicallly in the Maritimes, this area produces only 1.2 per cent Central Canada produces 11.5 per cent and the Prairies about 87.5 per cent.

ALBERTA BOY WINS MEDAL FOR SAVING GIRL'S LIFE

Robert Byron Wardle of Tilley, Alberta, 16-year-old Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety instructor, has been awarded the first Mountbatten Medal of the Royal Life Saving Society for the rescue of 2½-year-old Frances Burchack from a cistern at Tilley last Aug. 10. He is a lifeguard at the Brooks Swimming Pool.

The medal, first of a series presented by the Earl Mountbatten of Burma, is given the award holder who makes the best rescue of the year who has not been otherwise signally honored. Only one medal is awarded each year. Earl Mountbatten is president of the Royal Life Saving Society.

The award itself, which bears on one side in relief Earl Mountbatten's coat of arms, and on the reverse side an inscription and a space for engraving the name of the recipient, will be presented later at a date as yet unannounced.

Wardle's citation reads as follows:

"Frances Burchack of Vulcan, Alberta, aged two years, whilst playing with her brother, aged four, accidentally fell into a cistern located in the rear of some premises belonging to her relatives. The postmaster was immediately informed of the accident, and a ladder put part way down the cistern, when Robert Byron Wardle, a Boy Scout aged 16, and a holder of the Society's Bronze Medallion, ran from a nearby garage and shouted for the ladder to be pulled out.

"Owing to the manhole entrance being only eighteen inches square, difficulty was encountered, but Wardle, divesting himself of shoes and shirt, entered through the small hole and swam to the bottom a distance of ten feet.

"Lack of light, the coldness of water, boards, a nail keg, and other refuse thrown into the cistern by children, hampered the rescuer, but he was able to bring her up and pass her out through the small manhole, which was three feet from the surface of the water. The diameter of the cistern was only five feet, which greatly hampered movement.

"The victim had been in the water for ten minutes or more, and when brought to the surface, it was found that breathing had stopped and the patient looked blue. Artificial respiration was immediately applied and in due course the patient recovered, but did not regain consciousness for some four hours and was detained in hospital for two days."

Earl Mountbatten has expressed his regrets that it is not possible for him to present the medal to Wardle, but has asked that his warmest congratulations and praise be conveyed to the recipient who effected so brave a rescue.

Wardle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wardle of Tilley and a student in Grade K. Born in Medicine Hat, he learned to swim when he was five years old. He learned water safety, which includes the application of artificial respiration, at the Red Cross aquatic school held last July in Lethbridge.

In speaking of Wardle's award, R. C. Bishop of Edmonton, director of Red Cross swimming and water safety in Alberta, said, "Frances Burchack, who was saved by Wardle in this incident, is only one of the many potential victims of death by drowning in Alberta who have been saved by action on the part of water safety instructors trained by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

"Many of the drownings which are sure to occur this year and in the future in Alberta could well be averted if organizations and municipalities which plan on conducting any type of aquatic program would have some person such as Robert Wardle attend an aquatic school conducted by the Canadian Red Cross Society in one of the many regional schools which are held each year in the province.

"The Red Cross Society stands ready to help in saving lives by training persons, selected by organizations and municipalities, as swimming and water safety instructors."

Increased Coyote Activity Reported

Renewed interest in Alberta's province-wide campaign for the control of coyotes is reported by W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection. Three new control areas have recently been established, making a total of 57 now in operation.

Farmers are now reporting more coyote activity than has been in evidence during the past three months, and some of them are becoming concerned about the safety of their sheep and poultry. In these cases, Mr. Lobay advises the resetting of cyanide guns that may have been removed earlier this year. In some cases the effectiveness of the lure may have deteriorated, he says, and pest control officers should be approached for fresh supplies.
